8/24/19 ArtSeed is a summer intensive program that teaches young kids how to use their art by creativity and letting it sprout by lots of materials. We let the kids learn how to use oil paints, acrylics, drawing still-life and body figures. We learn to be organized, being respectful, and treat others the way you want to be treated. We grow together as a program and learn about society and how to express our art to change/movement to the world. Little by little we grow as a community and our goal is to change our view to the world through art.

4/27/19 Art-a-thon:

I have to say I thoroughly enjoyed myself and it was lovely to walk around and chat to some of the attendees, or talk to them as I did some art. Well done to you both and the team for putting on a great day and giving the community a chance to try different types of art and mediums. Such a lovely thing. – Jen Gould

The ArtSeed event was so much fun for my daughter (9 years old) and me. We thoroughly enjoyed all the stations, the live music, and the enthusiasm of the organizers. We also learnt a lot of techniques taught by very talented people. There were also some mediums and materials that we had never seen or used before. I recommend everyone to come in and experience this event for a true immersion of the arts. – Deepa

This is a great place for kids and adults to experience using different materials, water colors, printmaking, and weaving. I would recommend this place because it has so many cool projects that you can make. Also it has so many cool materials that you can use. Some materials you use are materials you have never seen before. This is a great place to make art. – Trisha

There were so many and varied media plus music and food! All the varied ways of making art – portraiture, craft, paint – made it a memorable event. I enjoyed the music. There was tremendous organization effort. Keep the variety for next year. I would definitely contribute fresh flowers to ArtSeeds events. – Bette

The most memorable experience I had was the calligraphy, cartoon, and stamps. – Anonymous

Super fun and great music! We made a bag and sewed flowers on it. I wish we'd gotten here sooner. –
